CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Plaintiff,

vs.

Super Care, Inc., d/b/a SuperCare
Health, Inc.,

Defendant.

NATURE OF ACTION AND INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

1. Plaintiff Harmon Cottrell (“Plaintiff”) brings this class action against Defendant SuperCare Health, Inc. (“Defendant”) for its failure to properly secure and safeguard personally identifiable information (“PII”) and protected health information (“PHI”) of its patients.

2. Defendant SuperCare Health, Inc. (“Defendant”) is a “leading post-acute, in-home respiratory care provider in the Western U.S.”<sup>1</sup> with the goal “to be the most trusted partner managing high-risk respiratory diseases combining both in-home, high-touch care with telehealth and remote monitoring.”<sup>2</sup>

3. As a corporation doing business in California, Defendant is legally required to protect PII and PHI from unauthorized access and exfiltration.

4. According to Defendant’s Notice of Security Incident on its website, Defendant first noticed “unauthorized activity” on its systems on July 27, 2021.<sup>3</sup> A subsequent forensic investigation revealed that an unknown party had access to certain systems on Defendant’s network from July 23, 2021 to July 27, 2021 (“Data Breach”).<sup>4</sup>

5. Defendant did not report this Data Breach to the Health and Human Services Office of Civil Rights (“OCR”) until March 28, 2022<sup>5</sup> – nearly eight months after Defendant originally became aware of the breach.

6. Between July 2021 and March 2022, Plaintiff and other similarly situated Class Members were unaware that their personally identifiable information (“PII”) and protected health information (“PHI”) had been potentially compromised. The potentially affected data includes, but is not limited to, “name, address, date of birth, hospital or medical group, patient account number, medical record number, health

1 insurance information, testing/diagnostic/treatment information, other health-related 2 information, and claim information.”<sup>6</sup> Defendant reports that for a small subset of 3 individuals, the patient’s “Social Security number and/or driver’s license number may 4 have been contained in the impacted files.”<sup>7</sup>

5 7. According to the OCR HIPPA Breach Reporting Tool, the breach
6 affected nearly 318,400 current and former patients of Defendant.<sup>8</sup>

7 8. When Defendant finally notified Plaintiff and Class Members of the 8 breach on March 25, 2022, Defendant failed to explain why its failed to prevent the 9 hack for four days, why it did not immediately notify potentially affected individuals 10 so they may be able to protect their data, or why its internal investigation of the 11 incident took nearly six months.

12 9. In response to the Data Breach, Defendant claims that it “implemented 13 additional security measures to protect our digital environment and minimize the 14 likelihood of future incidents.”<sup>9</sup> However, Defendant fails detail how its previous 15 security systems gave rise to the Data Breach, or share any tangible information 16 regarding the steps taken in order to further secure this highly sensitive information.

17 10. According to Defendant’s Privacy Policy<sup>10</sup>, Defendant upholds that 18 patient “protected health information,” as well as “any additional unique personally 19 identifiable information … is not transferred to any third party.”

20 11. However, despite its own promise to Plaintiff and Class Members, 21 Defendant failed to safeguard and protect this information from unauthorized access 22 and disclosure.

1       12. As a result of Defendant’s failure to provide reasonable and adequate data
2 security, Plaintiff’s and Class Members’ PII and PHI have been exposed to those who 3 should not have access to it. As a result, Plaintiff and putative class members are now 4 at much higher risk of identity theft and for cybercrimes, especially considering the 5 highly valuable, sensitive, and sought-after PII and PHI stolen here.

6       13. The PII and PHI exposed by Defendant as a result of its inadequate data
7 security is highly valuable on the black market to phishers, hackers, identity thieves,
8 and cybercriminals. Stolen PII and PHI is often trafficked on the “dark web,” a heavily
9 encrypted part of the Internet that is not accessible via traditional search engines. Law 10 enforcement has difficulty policing the dark web due to this encryption, which allows 11 users and criminals to conceal identities and online activity. PHI and medical records, 12 are of significantly high value to cybercriminals, with reports that the information
13 could go for up to $1,000 on the dark web.<sup>11</sup>

14       14. When malicious actors infiltrate companies and copy and exfiltrate the 15 PII and PHI that those companies store, or have access to, that stolen information often 16 ends up on the dark web because the malicious actors buy and sell that information for 17 profit.

18       15. Here, the information potentially compromised by the Data Breach is 19 difficult and highly problematic to change— such as driver’s license numbers, social 20 security numbers, and addresses.

21       16. Unauthorized data breaches, such as these, facilitate identity theft as 22 hackers obtain consumers’ PII and thereafter use it to siphon money from current 23 accounts, open new accounts in the names of their victims, or sell consumers’ PII to 24 others who do the same.

25       17. Moreover, Plaintiff’s and the Class Members’s PHI is highly coveted and 26 protected under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996

1 (“HIPAA”). Due to Defendant’s negligence resulting in this Data Breach, Plaintiff
2 and Class Members’ medical hospital information, patient account numbers, medical 3 record numbers, health insurance numbers, testing/diagnostic/treatment information, 4 and claim information have all been compromised. All of this information can be 5 utilized to facilitate medical identity theft. Thus, as a result of Defendant’s negligence
6 and this Data Breach, Plaintiff and Class Members face a heightened risk of having false 7 medical and health insurance claims made under their names, receiving bills for 8 medicine and treatments these patients’ did not actually receive, and experiencing 9 disruptions or fraudulent changes made to their medical records.

10 18. Notably, once PII and PHI is compromised or stolen, it cannot be 11 recovered or returned to an uncompromised condition—these individuals do not even 12 have the ability to stop future unlawful usage from occurring. As such, Plaintiff and 13 Class Members must remain vigilant, in perpetuity, to ensure that their PII and PHI is 14 not being fraudulently used.

15 19. Defendant was obligated under the HIPAA, contract law, industry
16 standards, common law and its own representations made to Plaintiff and Class
17 Members to keep their PII and PHI confidential.

18 20. Ultimately, Plaintiff’s and Class Member’s PII and PHI were 19 compromised due to Defendant’s own negligent acts and omissions, as well as its 20 failure to adequately safeguard this crucial information.

21 21. On information and belief, Defendant’s systems were inadequate to 22 detect and prevent the “unauthorized activity” that led to the Data Breach, as the 23 information was not stored in an encrypted protected manner as required by reasonable 24 standards.

25 22. As a result of Defendant’s negligence resulting in this Data Breach,
26 Plaintiff and Class Members have suffered and will continue to suffer damages
27 including, but not limited to, monetary losses and economic harm, invasion of privacy, 28

1 an indefinite increased risk of personal identity and medical identity theft, heightened
2 nuisances due to compromised personal contact information, and emotional distress.

3       23. Specifically, as a result of this unauthorized Data Breach, Plaintiff has 4 spent a considerable time and effort monitoring his information to determine if he has 5 been subject to any data breaches. Plaintiff reports experiencing feelings of anxiety, 6 stress, fear, and frustration because of the Data Breach, due to the unknown nature of 7 what information was compromised to what extent.

8       24. Further, Plaintiff believes that there may have been more PII
9 compromised than what is reported by Defendant. Specifically, after the Data Breach,
10 Plaintiff reports receiving an influx of scam calls and text messages to his personal 11 cell phone— which is unlisted and unaccessible online. These nuisance calls add
12 regular and consistent interruptions into Plaintiff's day and trigger constant reminders 13 of the potential PII and PHI that has been exposed as a result of this Data Breach. As 14 such, this goes far beyond allegations of mere worry or inconvenience; it is exactly 15 the sort of injury and harm to a Data Breach victim that the law contemplates and 16 addresses.

17       25. Further, as a result of the unauthorized data disclosure, Plaintiff and Class 18 Members are now at risk for actual identity and medial identity theft in addition to 19 other forms of fraud. The ramifications of Defendant's failure to keep PII and PHI
20 secure are long lasting and severe. The PII belonging to Plaintiff and class members 21 is private, valuable, and sensitive in nature as it can be used to commit a variety of 22 harms in the hands of the wrong people.

23       26. In response to the exposure of this sensitive PII and PHI, Defendant only 24 offers Plaintiff and Class Members up to 12 months of free credit monitoring. Not 25 only is this insufficient to remedy the lifelong identity theft threat that each patient
26 now faces, it completely fails to remedy the exposure of Plaintiff and Class 27 Members' highly sensitive protected health information—the illicit usage of which 28 cannot be monitored.

27. Defendant had ample resources necessary to prevent the unauthorized data disclosure, but neglected to adequately implement data security measures, despite its obligations to protect the PI of Plaintiff and putative class members. Had Defendant remedied the deficiencies in its data security systems and adopted security measures recommended by experts in the field, it would have prevented the intrusions into its systems and, ultimately, the unauthorized access of PII and PHI.

28. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's actions and inactions, Plaintiff and putative class members have been placed at an imminent, immediate, and continuing increased risk of harm from identity theft and fraud, requiring them to take the time which they otherwise would have dedicated to other life demands such as work and family in an effort to mitigate the actual and potential impact of the unauthorized data disclosure on their lives.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

29. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action under the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005 (“CAFA”), 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d), as the amount in controversy exceeds the sum of $5,000,000, exclusive of interest and costs, there are more than 100 putative class members, and minimal diversity exists because many putative class members are citizens of a different state than Defendant.

30. The United States District Court for the Central District of California has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Defendant is headquartered in this District and does substantial business in California.

31. Venue is proper because Defendant is headquartered in this District and a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to Plaintiff's claims occurred in this District.

THE PARTIES

32. Plaintiff was a patient of SuperCare Health, Inc, where he frequently purchased medical equipment for his respiratory needs. On March 25, 2022, Plaintiff received a notice from Defendant regarding the breach of his personal information,

1 including “name, address, date of birth, patient account number, health insurance
2 policy/member number, diagnostic information, treatment information, physician’s 3 name, and claim information.”

4 33. Defendant Super Care, Inc. d/b/a SuperCare Health, Inc., is a California
5 corporation with its headquarters in Downey, California.

6 34. The true names and capacities of persons or entities, whether individual,
7 corporate, associate, or otherwise, who may be responsible for some of the claims
8 alleged herein are currently unknown to Plaintiff. Plaintiff will seek leave of court to 9 amend this complaint to reflect the true names and capacities of such other responsible 10 parties when their identities become known.

11 35. All of Plaintiff’s claims stated herein are asserted against Defendant and 12 any of its owners, predecessors, successors, subsidiaries, agents and/or assigns.

13 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

14 36. Plaintiff seeks relief on behalf of himself and as a representative of all 15 others who are similarly situated.

16 (a) Nationwide Class: All individuals nationwide whose PII or PHI was 17 actually or potentially compromised during the data breach referenced 18 in the Notice of Data Breach sent by Defendant on or around March 19 25, 2022.

20 (b) California Class: All individuals residing in California whose PII or 21 PHI was actually or potentially compromised during the data breach 22 referenced in the Notice of Data Breach sent by Defendant on or 23 around March 25, 2022.

24 37. Plaintiff reserves the right to amend the class definition.

25 38. This action satisfies the numerosity, commonality, typicality, and 26 adequacy requirements under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23.

27 (a) Numerosity: The Class Members are believed to be so numerous and 28 geographically dispersed that the joinder of all members is

1 impractical. Upon information and belief, the number of potentially 2 affected individuals is over 300,000.

3 (b) Commonality: Plaintiff and the Class Members's claims raise
4 predominantly common fact and legal questions that a class wide 5 proceeding can answer for all Class members, such as:

- 6 i. Whether Defendant had a duty to use reasonable care in 7 safeguarding Plaintiff's and Class Member's PII and PHI;
- 8 ii. Whether Defendant failed to implement and maintain 9 reasonable security procedures and practices appropriate to the 10 nature and scope of the information compromised in the Data
11 Breach;
- 12 iii. Whether Defendant was negligent in maintaining, protecting, 13 and securing PII and PHI;
- 14 iv. Whether Defendant breached contract promises to safeguard
15 Plaintiff's and Class Member's PII and PHI;
- 16 v. Whether Defendant took reasonable measures to determine the 17 extent of the Data Breach after discovering it;
- 18 vi. Whether Defendant's Breach Notice was reasonable; and
- 19 vii. Whether the Data Breach caused Plaintiff and Class Members 20 injuries.

21 (c) Typicality: Plaintiff's claims and damages sought are typical of those 22 of other Class Members. Further, Plaintiff seeks relief consistent with 23 the relief sought by Class Members.

24 (d) Adequacy of Representation: Plaintiff will fairly and adequately
25 protect the proposed Class's interests, and his interests do not conflict
26 with Class members' interests.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA'S CONFIDENTIALITY OF MEDICAL INFORMATION ACT ("CMIA")
(Cal. Civ. Code § 56.10, et seq.)

(on behalf of Plaintiff and the California Class)

39. Pursuant to the Confidentiality of Medical Information Act, Cal. Civ. Code § 56.10 et seq., “a provider of health care, health care service plan, or contractor shall not disclose medical information regarding a patient of the provider of health care or an enrollee or subscriber of a health care service plan without first obtaining an authorization.”

40. Under Cal. Civ. Code § 56.101(a), “Every provider of health care... or contractor who creates, maintains, preserves, stores, abandons, destroys, or disposes of medical information shall do so in a manner that preserves the confidentiality of the information contained therein.” Any entity “who negligently creates, maintains, preserves, stores, abandons, destroys, or disposes of medical information shall be subject to the remedies and penalties provided under subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 56.36.”

41. Moreover, under Cal. Civ. Code § 56.05(a), “any business organized for the purpose of maintaining medical information ... in order to make the information available to an individual or to a provider of health care at the request of the individual or a provider of health care, for purposes of allowing the individual to manage his or her information, or for the diagnosis and treatment of the individual, shall be deemed to be a provider of health care subject to the requirements of this part.”

42. Here, Defendant provided in-home respiratory care services for its patients through a “team of specialized RTs, RNs, pharmacists, and RDs, together with high-tech solutions with mobile apps, telehealth, and video education.”<sup>12</sup> As

<sup>12</sup> <https://supercarehealth.com/homepage/who-we-serve/physicians-specialty-groups/>

1 such, under Cal. Civ. Code § 56.05(m), Defendant operates as a provider of health
2 care as to Plaintiff and Class Members.

3 43. Moreover, Defendant maintained medical information within its 4 systems for the purpose of providing medical equipment, telehealth appointments,
5 prescription refills, and app-based health care data management. To the extent that 6 Defendant may be only providing medical supplies to Plaintiff and Class Members,
7 Defendant still qualifies as a medical services organization that qualifies as a 8 “contractor” of health care services under Cal. Civ. Code § 56.05(d), and must be 9 held to the standards reflected in this statute.

10 44. Under Cal. Civ. Code 56.05(l), “medical information” refers to “any 11 individually identifiable information, in electronic or physical form, in possession
12 of or derived from a provider of health care... or contractor regarding a patient’s
13 medical history, mental or physical condition, or treatment.” Further, “individually
14 identifiable” refers to “medical information [that] includes or contains any element 15 of personal identifying information sufficient to allow identification of the 16 individual, such as the patient’s name, address, electronic mail address, telephone 17 number, or social security number, or other information that, alone or in combination 18 with other publicly available information, reveals the identity of the individual.”

19 45. Here, Defendant maintained, preserved, and stored Plaintiff’s and the 20 California Class’s “medical information,” as defined under Cal. Civ. Code § 21 56.05(l), such as testing/diagnostic/treatment information, other health-related 22 information, and claim information. This information — coupled with individually 23 identifiable information regarding the Plaintiff and the California Class, such as 24 names, addresses, and dates of birth — together, could reveal the identity of Plaintiff
25 and the California Class.

26 46. Under Cal. Civ. Code § 56.05(j), a “patient” refers to “a natural person, 27 whether or not still living, who received health care services from a provider of 28 health care and to whom medical information pertains.” Here, Plaintiff and the

1 California Class are “patients” as defined by Cal. Civ. Code § 56.05(k) because they 2 receive medical treatment and services from Defendant and its health care partners,
3 and the medical information implicated in this Data Breach are directly related to 4 them.

5 47. Thus, as Defendant is bound by CIMA standards, Defendant owed a 6 duty to preserve the confidentiality of Plaintiff’s and the California Class’s medical 7 information and to not allow their medical information to be released and viewed by 8 unauthorized persons.

9 48. Defendant breached its duty owed to Plaintiff and the California Class 10 by failing to implement fair, reasonable, or adequate computer systems and data 11 security policies to safeguard Plaintiff’s and California Class Members’ medical 12 information, and by allowing that PHI to be released and viewed by unauthorized 13 persons.

14 49. The resulting unauthorized access and potential acquisition of 15 Plaintiff’s and California Class Members’ PHI to unauthorized hackers during the 16 Data Breach was an affirmative communicative act in violation of Cal. Civ. Code §
17 56.101(a). Further, Plaintiff’s and California Class Members’ PHI was viewed by 18 the unauthorized hackers as a direct and proximate result of Defendant’s violation 19 of Cal. Civ. Code § 56.101(a).

20 50. Further, Plaintiff’s and California Class Members’ PHI that was subject
21 to the Data Breach included “electronic medical records” or “electronic health 22 records” as referenced by Cal. Civ. Code § 56.101(c).

23 51. Under Cal. Civ. Code § 56.101(b)(1)(A), a proper electronic health 24 record system or electronic medical record system must “[p]rotect and preserve the 25 integrity of electronic medical information.” Here, Defendant negligently created, 26 maintained, preserved, stored, abandoned, destroyed, or disposed of medical 27 information, which ultimately resulted in Plaintiff’s and California Class Members’
28 PHI being viewed by unauthorized hackers in the Data Breach. Thus, the Data

1 Breach was a direct and proximate result of Defendant's violation of Cal. Civ. Code 2 § 56.101.

3 52. Under Cal. Civ. Code § 56.101(b)(1)(B), a proper electronic health 4 record system or electronic medical record system must “[a]utomatically record and 5 preserve any change or deletion of any electronically stored medical information.
6 The record of any change or deletion shall include the identity of the person who 7 accessed and changed the medical information, the date and time the medical 8 information was accessed, and the change that was made to the medical 9 information.”

10 53. Here, Defendant's electronic health record system or electronic medical 11 record system failed to automatically record and preserve any actual or potential 12 change or deletion of any electronically stored medical information, in violation of 13 Cal. Civ. Code § 56.101(b)(1)(B).

14 54. Further, Defendant's electronic health record system or electronic 15 medical record system failed to record the identity of persons who actually or 16 potentially accessed and changed medical information, failed to record the date and 17 time medical information was accessed and failed to record any actual or potential
18 changes that were made to medical information, in violation of Cal. Civ. Code §
19 56.101(b)(1)(B).

20 55. Under Cal. Civ. Code § 56.10(e), a health care provider “shall not 21 further disclose medical information regarding a patient of the provider of health 22 care or an enrollee or subscriber of a health care service plan or insurer or self-23 insured employer received under this section to a person or entity that is not engaged 24 in providing direct health care services to the patient or his or her provider of health 25 care or health care service plan or insurer or self-insured employer.”

26 56. Here, Defendant disclosed Plaintiff's and California Class Members' 27 PHI to persons or entities not engaged in providing direct health care services to 28 Plaintiff's or California Class Members or their providers of health care or health

1 care service plans or insurers or self-insured employers, in violation of § 56.10(e).

2 57. The foregoing violations of CMIA resulted from Defendant's
3 affirmative actions, and Defendant knew or should have known it had inadequate 4 computer systems and data security practices to safeguard such information.
5 Defendant knew or should have known of the risks inherent in collecting and storing 6 the protected medical information of Plaintiff and members of the California Class.

7 58. The injury and harm Plaintiff and members of the California Class
8 suffered was the reasonably foreseeable result of Defendant's breach of its duties.
9 Defendant knew or should have known that it was failing to meet its duties and its 10 breach would cause Plaintiff and members of the California Class to suffer the 11 foreseeable harms associated with the exposure of their PHI.

12 59. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's negligent conduct,
13 Plaintiff and members of the California Class now face an increased risk of future 14 harm.

15 60. Under Cal. Civ. Code § 56.36(b), an individual may bring an action 16 against a person or entity who has negligently released confidential information or 17 records concerning him or her in violation of this part, for either or both of the 18 following: "(1) ... nominal damages of one thousand dollars ($1,000). In order to 19 recover under this paragraph, it is not necessary that the plaintiff suffered or was 20 threatened with actual damages" and "(2) The amount of actual damages, if any,
21 sustained by the patient."

22 61. Here, Defendant negligently released confidential information or 23 records concerning Plaintiff's and California Class Members' PHI in violation of 24 Cal. Civ. Code § 56.36(b). As such, Plaintiff and California Class Members are 25 entitled to bring an action for damages against Defendant.

26 62. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's violation of Cal. Civ.
27 Code § 56, et seq., Plaintiff and members of the California Class have suffered injury 28 and are entitled to damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA CONSUMER RECORDS ACT

Cal. Bus. Code § 1798.80, *et seq.

(on behalf of Plaintiff and the California Class)

63. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

64. California Civil Code section 1798.80, et seq., known as the “Customer Records Act” (“CRA”) was enacted to “encourage business that own, license, or maintain personal information about Californians to provide reasonable security for that information.” Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.81.5(a)(1).

65. Under Section 1798.81.5(b), any business that “owns, licenses, or maintains personal information about a California resident” is required to “implement and maintain reasonable security procedures and practices appropriate to the nature of the information,” and “to protect the personal information from unauthorized access, destruction, use, modification, or disclosure.”

66. Defendant was and still is a “business” under the terms of the CRA as a corporation operating in the State of California that collected personal information of Plaintiff and Class Members. Further, Defendant satisfies at least one of the requirements of Section 1798.140(c), as it “receives for the business’ commercial purposes … or shares for commercial purposes… the personal information of 50,000 or more consumers, households, or devices.”

67. Section 1798.81.5(d)(1)(B) defines “personal information” as including an individual’s first name or first initial and the individual’s last name in combination with any one or more of the following data elements, when either the name or the data elements are not encrypted or redacted. This includes, but is not limited to, an individual’s social security number; driver’s license number; California identification card number; medical information, such as an individual’s medical history or medical treatment or diagnosis by a health care professional; health insurance information,

1 such as individual's insurance policy number or subscriber identification number, any 2 unique identifier used by a health insurer to identify the individual, or any information 3 in an individual's application and claims history, including any appeals record; and 4 more. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.81.5(d)(1)(A)-(B).

5 68. At all relevant times, Plaintiff and the California subclass were 6 "customers" under the terms of the CRA as natural persons who provided personal 7 information to Defendant for the purpose of obtaining a medical services or equipment
8 from Defendant.

9 69. As alleged in detail above, Defendant failed to "implement and maintain 10 reasonable security procedures and practices appropriate to the nature of the 11 information," and "to protect the personal information from unauthorized access, 12 destruction, use, modification, or disclosure," resulting in the Data Breach.

13 70. Further, under Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.2, any "person or business that 14 conducts business in California, and that owns or licenses computerized data that 15 includes personal information" must "disclose any breach of the system following 16 discovery or notification of the breach in the security of the data to any resident of 17 California whose unencrypted personal information was, or is reasonably believed to 18 have been, acquired by an unauthorized person."

19 71. Under Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.2(b), the disclosure must "be made in the 20 most expedient time possible and without unreasonable delay" but "immediately 21 following discovery [of the breach], if the personal information was, or is reasonably 22 believed to have been, acquired by an unauthorized person."

23 72. Here, Defendant possessed highly sensitive PII of Plaintiff and the Class 24 Members in an unencrypted format, resulting in an unauthorized person acquired the 25 personal, unencrypted information of Plaintiff and Class Members. Moreover, the 26 personal information involved — such as names, addresses, dates of birth, social 27 security numbers, and driver's license numbers — are not exempted from coverage
28 by this statute due to the CMIA or HIPAA because it is not medical information.

73. Defendant knew that an unauthorized activity had potentially compromised personal, unencrypted information of Plaintiff and Class Members in July 2021, but waited until March 2022 to notify individuals of the breach. This eight month of delay was unreasonable under the circumstances.

74. Moreover, Defendant's unreasonable delay prevented Plaintiff and Class Members from taking appropriate measures from protecting themselves against harm by protecting their information or monitoring their data earlier. Because Plaintiff and Class Members were unable to protect themselves, they suffered incrementally increased damages that they would not have suffered with timelier notice.

75. As such, Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to equitable relief and damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

NEGLIGENCE

(on behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class)

76. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

77. Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class entrusted their PII and PHI to Defendant. Defendant owed to Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class a duty to exercise reasonable care in handling and using the PII and PHI in its care and custody. This includes including industry-standard security procedures sufficient to reasonably protect the information from the Data Breach, theft, and unauthorized use that came to pass; detecting attempts at unauthorized access; and promptly notifying those affected of potential harm.

78. Defendant owed a duty of care to Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class because it was foreseeable that Defendant's failure to adequately safeguard their PII and PHI in accordance with state-of-the-art industry standards concerning data security could result in the compromise of that PII and PHI.

79. Defendant was negligent in its handling of Plaintiff and the Nationwide

1 Class's PII and PHI by (1) disclosing and providing access to this information to third 2 parties and (2) by failing to properly supervise both the way the information was 3 stored, used, and exchanged, and those in its employ who were responsible for 4 making that happen.

5       80. Further, Defendant owed Plaintiff and Class Members a duty to notify 6 them within a reasonable timeframe of any breach to the security of their PII and 7 PHI. Defendant also owed a duty to timely and accurately disclose the scope, nature, 8 and occurrence of the Data Breach, in order for Plaintiff and Class Members to take 9 appropriate measures to protect their information and mitigate the harm caused by 10 the Data Breach.

11       81. Specifically, under the HIPAA Breach Notification Rule, 45 CFR §§
12 164.400-414, Defendant was required to provide notice of the breach to each 13 affected individual "without unreasonable delay and in no case later than 60 days 14 following discovery of the breach." Defendant failed to provide any notice to 15 Plaintiff and Class Members until nearly eight months after becoming aware of 16 unauthorized activity.

17       82. Defendant owed these duties to Plaintiff and Class Members because 18 they are members of a well-defined, foreseeable, and probable class of individuals 19 whom Defendant knew or should have known would suffer injury-in-fact from 20 Defendant's inadequate security protocols. Defendant actively sought and obtained
21 Plaintiff and Class Member's PII and PHI.

22       83. The risk that unauthorized persons would attempt to gain access to the 23 PII and PHI and misuse it was foreseeable. Given that Defendant holds vast amounts 24 of PII and PHI, it was inevitable that unauthorized individuals would attempt to 25 access Defendant's databases containing this highly sensitive information.

26       84. PII and PHI are highly valuable—they can be sold on the black market 27 and utilized in order to open fraudulent accounts or medical claims. Defendant knew, 28 or should have known, the risk in obtaining, using, handling, emailing, and storing

1 Plaintiff and Class Members PII and PHI and the importance of exercising reasonable 2 care in handling it.

3 85. Defendant breached its duties by failing to exercise reasonable care in 4 supervising its agents, contractors, vendors, and suppliers, and in handling and 5 securing the personal information and PII and PHI of Plaintiff and Class Members
6 which actually and proximately caused the Data Breach and Plaintiff and Class
7 Members' injury. Defendant further breached its duties by failing to provide 8 reasonably timely notice of the Data Breach to Plaintiff and Class Members, which 9 actually and proximately caused and exacerbated the harm from the Data Breach and 10 Plaintiff and Class Members' injuries-in-fact. As a direct and traceable result of 11 Defendant's negligence and/or negligent supervision, Plaintiff and Class Members 12 have suffered or will suffer damages, including monetary damages, increased risk of 13 future harm, and emotional distress.

14 86. Neither Plaintiff nor the other Class Members contributed to the 15 unauthorized data breach as described in this Complaint.

16 87. As a direct and proximate cause of Defendant's conduct, Plaintiff and 17 class members have suffered and/or will suffer injury and damages, including but not 18 limited to: (a) the loss of the opportunity to determine for themselves how their PII
19 and PHI is used; (b) the publication and/or potential theft of their PII and PHI; (c) 20 out-of-pocket expenses associated with the prevention, detection, and recovery from 21 unauthorized use of their PII; (d) lost opportunity costs associated with effort 22 expended and the loss of productivity addressing and attempting to mitigate the 23 actual and future consequences of the unauthorized data breach, including but not 24 limited to efforts spent researching how to prevent, detect, contest and recover from 25 fraud and identity theft; (e) costs associated with placing freezes on credit reports
26 beyond the free credit monitoring provided by Defendant; (f) anxiety, emotional 27 distress, loss of privacy, and other economic and non-economic losses; (g) the 28 continued risk to their PII, which remains in Defendant's possession (and/or

1 Defendant has access to) and is subject to further unauthorized disclosures so long as 2 Defendant fails to undertake appropriate and adequate measures to protect the PII
3 and PHI in its continued possession; and, (h) future costs in terms of time, effort, and 4 money that will be expended to prevent, detect, contest, and repair the inevitable and 5 continuing consequences of compromised PII and PHI.

6 88. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's negligence, Plaintiff 7 and class members have been injured as described herein, and are entitled to 8 damages including, but not limited to, compensatory, nominal, and consequential 9 damages.

10 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

11 NEGLIGENCE PER SE

12 (on behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class)

13 89. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above
14 allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

15 90. Pursuant to the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC") Act of 1914, 15
16 U.S.C. § 45, Defendant had a duty to provide fair and adequate computer systems
17 and data security practices to safeguard Plaintiff's and Class Member's PII and PHI.

18 91. In 2016, the FTC established guidelines for fundamental data security
19 principles and practices for business.<sup>13</sup> Among other things, the guidelines note 20 businesses should properly dispose of personal information that is no longer needed,
21 encrypt information stored on computer networks, understand their network's
22 vulnerabilities, and implement policies to correct security problems. The guidelines 23 also recommend that businesses use an intrusion detection system to expose a breach 24 as soon as it occurs, monitor all incoming traffic for activity indicating someone is 25 attempting to hack the system, watch for large amounts of data being transmitted 26 from the system, and have a response plan ready in the event of the breach.

27 92. Section 5 of the FTC Act prohibits "unfair . . . practices in or affecting

1 commerce,” including, as interpreted and enforced by the FTC, the unfair act or 2 practice by businesses, such as Defendant, of failing to use reasonable measures to 3 protect customers or, in this case, patients’ PII and PHI. The FTC publications and 4 orders promulgated pursuant to the FTC Act also form part of the basis of 5 Defendant’s duty to protect Plaintiff’s and Class Member’s sensitive PII and PHI.

6 93. Here, Defendant violated its duty under Section 5 of the FTC Act by 7 failing to use reasonable measures to protect its patients’ PII and PHI and not 8 complying with applicable industry standards. Moreover, Defendant’s conduct was 9 particularly unreasonable given the nature and amount of PII and PHI Defendant had 10 collected and stored and the foreseeable consequences of a data breach, including, 11 specifically, the immense damages that would result to its patients in the event of a 12 breach, which ultimately came to pass.

13 94. Plaintiff and the Class Members are among the class of persons Section 14 5 of the FTC was designed to protect, and the injuries suffered by Plaintiff and the 15 class members are the types of injury Section 5 of the FTC Act was intended to 16 prevent. Indeed, the FTC has pursued numerous enforcement actions against 17 businesses that, because of their failure to employ reasonable data security measures 18 and avoid unfair and deceptive practices, caused the same harm as that suffered by 19 Plaintiff and the Class Members.

20 95. Defendant had a duty to Plaintiff and Class Members to implement and 21 maintain reasonable security procedures and practices to safeguard Plaintiff’s and 22 Class Member’s PII and PHI.

23 96. Defendant breached its respective duties to Plaintiff’s and Class
24 Members’ PII and PHI under the FTC Act by failing to provide fair, reasonable, or 25 adequate computer systems and data security practices to safeguard Plaintiff and 26 members of the Class Members’ PII and PHI.

27 97. Defendant’s violation of Section 5 of the FTC Act and its failure to 28 comply with applicable laws and regulations constitutes negligence per se.

98. But for Defendant's wrongful and negligent breach of its duties owed to Plaintiff and Class Member, Plaintiff and Class Members would not have been injured.

99. As a direct and proximate cause of Defendant's conduct, Plaintiff and class members have suffered and/or will suffer injury and damages, including but not limited to: (a) the loss of the opportunity to determine for themselves how their PII and PHI is used; (b) the publication and/or theft of their PII and PHI; (c) out-of-pocket expenses associated with the prevention, detection, and recovery from unauthorized use of their PII; (d) lost opportunity costs associated with effort expended and the loss of productivity addressing and attempting to mitigate the actual and future consequences of the unauthorized data breach, including but not limited to efforts spent researching how to prevent, detect, contest and recover from fraud and identity theft; (e) costs associated with placing freezes on credit reports; (f) anxiety, emotional distress, loss of privacy, and other economic and non-economic losses; (g) the continued risk to their PII, which remains in Defendant's possession (and/or Defendant has access to) and is subject to further unauthorized disclosures so long as Defendant fails to undertake appropriate and adequate measures to protect the PII and PHI in its continued possession; and, (h) future costs in terms of time, effort, and money that will be expended to prevent, detect, contest, and repair the inevitable and continuing consequences of compromised PII and PHI.

100. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's negligence, Plaintiff and class members have been injured as described herein, and are entitled to damages including, but not limited to, compensatory, nominal, and consequential damages.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

BREACH OF IMPLIED CONTRACT

(on behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class)

28 101. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above

1 allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

2 102. Defendant exchanged medical equipment and services in exchange for 3 their Plaintiff and Class Members' PII and PHI.

4 103. In turn, and through its own internal policies, Defendant agreed it would 5 not disclose the PII and PHI it collects to unauthorized persons. Defendant also 6 promised to safeguard patient PII and PHI.

7 104. Plaintiff and Class Members accepted Defendant's offer by providing 8 PII and PHI to Defendant in exchange for Defendant's goods and services.

9 105. Implicit in the parties' agreement was that Defendant would provide 10 Plaintiff and Class Members with prompt and adequate notice of all unauthorized 11 access and/or theft of their PII and PHI. Given the strict standards in place for the 12 maintenance of health information, Plaintiff and Class Members believed that their 13 highly sensitive information would be safeguarded in Defendant's control.

14 106. Defendant materially breached the contract(s) it had entered with 15 Plaintiff and Class Members by failing to safeguard such information, as well as by 16 failing to notify Plaintiff and Class Members promptly of the intrusion into its 17 computer systems that compromised such information.

18 107. The damages sustained by Plaintiff and Class Members as described 19 above were the direct and proximate result of Defendant's material breaches of its 20 agreement(s).

21 108. Plaintiff and Class Members have performed as required under the 22 relevant agreements, or such performance was waived by the conduct of Defendant.

23 109. Defendant failed to advise Plaintiff and Class Members of the Data 24 Breach promptly and sufficiently.

25 110. In these and other ways, Defendant violated its duty of good faith and 26 fair dealing.

27 111. Plaintiff and Class Members have sustained damages because of 28 Defendant's breaches of its agreement, including breaches thereof through violations

1 of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

2 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

3 INVASION OF PRIVACY

4 (on behalf of Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class)

5 112. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above
6 allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

7 113. Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class had a legitimate expectation of 8 privacy to their PII and PHI and were entitled to the protection of this information 9 against disclosure to unauthorized third parties.

10 114. Defendant owed a duty to its current and former patients, including 11 Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class, to keep their PII and PHI contained as a part 12 thereof, confidential.

13 115. Defendant failed to protect and actually or potentially released to 14 unknown and unauthorized third parties the PII and PHI of Plaintiff and the 15 Nationwide Class.

16 116. Defendant allowed unauthorized and unknown third parties to actually 17 or potentially access and examine of the PII and PHI of Plaintiff and the Nationwide
18 Class, by way of Defendant's failure to protect the PII and PHI.

19 117. The unauthorized release to, custody of, and examination by 20 unauthorized third parties of the PII and PHI of Plaintiff and the Nationwide Class is 21 highly offensive to a reasonable person.

22 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

23 VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA UNFAIR COMPETITION LAW

24 (Cal. Bus. Code § 17200, et seq.)

25 (on behalf of Plaintiff and the California Class)

26 118. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and incorporates by reference the above
27 allegations by reference as if fully set forth herein.

28 119. Defendant engaged in unlawful and unfair business practices in

1 violation of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq. which prohibits unlawful, unfair,
2 or fraudulent business acts or practices (“UCL”).

3 120. Defendant’s conduct is unlawful because it violates Cal. Civ. Code § 4 56.10 et seq., by failing to maintain a proper electronic health record system or 5 electronic medical record system that could “[p]rotect and preserve the integrity of 6 electronic medical information,” resulting in the disclosure of Plaintiff and the Class
7 Member’s PII and PHI.

8 121. Defendant’s conduct is unlawful because it violates California Civil 9 Code § 1798.80 by failing to employ reasonable security measures, resulting in an 10 “unauthorized access, destruction, use, modification, or disclosure” of Plaintiff and 11 Class Members’ PII.

12 122. Defendant’s conduct is unlawful because it violates section 5 of the FTC
13 Act, by failing to provide fair and adequate computer systems and data security 14 practices to safeguard Plaintiff’s and Class Member’s PII and PHI, resulting in the 15 Data Breach at issue.

16 123. Defendant stored the PII and PHI of Plaintiff and Class Members in its 17 computer systems and knew or should have known it did not employ reasonable, 18 industry standard, and appropriate security measures that complied with applicable
19 regulations and that would have kept Plaintiff and Class Members’ PII and PHI secure 20 and prevented the loss or misuse of that highly sensitive information.

21 124. Defendant failed to disclose to Plaintiff and Class Members that their PII
22 and PHI was not secure. However, Plaintiff and Class Members were entitled to 23 assume, and did assume, that Defendant had secured their PII and PHI. At no time were 24 Plaintiff and Class Members on notice that their PII and PHI was not secure, which 25 Defendant had a duty to disclose.

26 125. Had Defendant complied with these requirements, Plaintiff and Class
27 Members would not have suffered the damages related to the data breach.

28 126. Further, Defendant’s conduct was unlawful, in that it violated the

1 Consumer Records Act. Defendant made the PII and PHI of Plaintiff and Class
2 Members accessible to scammers, identity thieves, and other malicious actors,
3 subjecting these individuals to an impending risk of identity theft.

4 127. Additionally, Defendant's conduct was unfair under the UCL because it 5 violated the policies underlying the laws set out in the prior paragraph.

6 128. As a result of those unlawful and unfair business practices, Plaintiff and 7 Class Members suffered an injury-in-fact and have lost money or property that cannot 8 be recovered.

9 129. The injuries to Plaintiff and Class Members greatly outweigh any 10 alleged countervailing benefit to consumers or competition under all of the 11 circumstances.

12 130. There were reasonably available alternatives to further Defendant's 13 legitimate business interests, other than the misconduct alleged in this complaint.

14 131. Therefore, Plaintiff and Class Members are entitled to equitable relief 15 including restitution of all monies paid to or received by Defendant; disgorgement of 16 all profits accruing to Defendant because of its unfair and improper business
17 practices; a permanent injunction enjoining Defendant's unlawful and unfair
18 business activities; and any other equitable relief the Court deems proper.

19 132. The intrusion was into a place or thing, which was private and is entitled 20 to be private. Plaintiff and Class Members disclosed their PII and PHI to Defendant
21 as part of Plaintiff and Class Members' relationship with Defendant, but privately
22 with an intention that the PII and PHI would be kept confidential and would be 23 protected from unauthorized disclosure. Plaintiff and Class Members were reasonable 24 in their belief that such information would be kept private and would not be disclosed 25 without their authorization.

26 133. The Data Breach at the hands of Defendant constitutes an intentional
27 interference with Plaintiff's and Class Members' interest in solitude or seclusion, 28 either as to their persons or as to their private affairs or concerns, of a kind that would

1 be highly offensive to a reasonable person.

2 134. Defendant acted knowingly and intentionally when it permitted the Data
3 Breach to occur because it was with actual knowledge that its information security
4 system and storage practices were inadequate and insufficient in light of the heavily 5 sensitive information that it possessed.

6 135. As such, Defendant had sufficient notice that its inadequate and 7 insufficient information security practices would cause injury and harm to Plaintiff
8 and the Class Members.

9 136. As a proximate result of the above acts and omissions of Defendant, the 10 PII and PHI of Plaintiff and Class Members was accessed by third parties without 11 authorization, causing Plaintiff and Class Members to suffer damages.

12 137. Here, Defendant's wrongful conduct will continue to cause great and 13 irreparable injury to Plaintiff and Class Members in that the PII and PHI maintained
14 by Defendant can be viewed, distributed, and used by unauthorized persons for years
15 to come. Plaintiff and Class Members have no adequate remedy at law for the injuries,
16 as a judgment for monetary damages will not end the invasion of privacy for Plaintiff
17 and Class Members.

18 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

19 WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated,
20 prays for judgment against Defendant as follows:

- 21 1. For certification of this action as a class action;
- 22 2. For appointment of Harmon Cottrell as the class representative;
- 23 3. For appointment of Lebe Law, APLC as class counsel for all purposes;

with interest thereon;
- 26 6. For pre-judgment interest; and
